Fire Destroys Barn at Cedar Crest Wednesday

Landmark a Total Loss in Conflagration of Unknown Origin

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the large barn just east of Route 59 at Cedar Crest early Wednesday morning. The building contained a large amount of farm machinery and other tools which were also destroyed. Cattle and horses which were stabled in the barn were saved.

The building, which was the property of Richard F. Lynn, well-known Chicago attorney, was discovered to be on fire at about 4:30 a.m. The Lake Villa Fire Department rushed to the scene but due to the late discovery of the blaze, were unable to save the barn. A cottage nearby and several other buildings were saved, however, and some articles were removed from the blazing building.

The structure was built many years ago by Jackson K. Deering, and has had a long and varied history. It has been used as a club house for the Cedar Crest Country Club before the new club house was built, and was operated as a night club for several years. Of late years the building has been used for storage of farm equipment.

It is believed that the loss is partly covered by insurance.

Bertha Stanton

Dies Suddenly

Christian Science funeral services were read by Mrs. Theresa Lewis this Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Strang Funeral home for Mrs. Bertha Stanton, 74, who died here Tuesday after a short illness.

She was for many years a teacher in the Lake county rural schools.

A daughter, Mrs. Albert (Carrie) Norman, with whom she made her home, a son, Warren H. Stanton, who is in the U. S. army and is stationed at Camp Grant, six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren survive.

Mrs. Stanton was a member of the Christian Science church and charter member of the Antioch Rebekah lodge.

Her death occurred only a few days before her seventy-fifth birthday, as she was born at Antioch Jan. 8, 1868. She made her home here throughout her life, with the exception of 12 years spent in Missouri. She was apparently in good health until Saturday, when she suffered a stroke.

Clara Johannott

Dies in Pittsburgh

Mrs. Clara Turner Johannott, who died in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Christmas day, aged 84, was laid to rest in Hillside cemetery following services held Monday afternoon in the Strang funeral home.

The body was brought to Antioch Saturday evening, to lie in state at the funeral home, so that life-long friends of the Turner and Johannott families might pay their last respects to her.

The Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, officiated at the services, which were held at 2 o'clock.

Born July 29, 1858, at Solon Mills, Mrs. Johannott spent the greater part of her life in Antioch. Of recent years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. P. K. Porter, in Pittsburgh.

She is also survived by a brother, Jim Turner, Hebron, and one grandchild.

Mrs. Maude C. Cassidy

Dies in San Diego, Calif.

Friends of the family in this region will sorrow this week of the death of Mrs. Maude C. Cassidy, 74, who died in San Diego, Calif.

Funeral services were held Dec. 29, at the home of her son, William J. Cassidy, and a son, Jr.

Cassidy formerly resided in the Jakes region, but have made their home in California for a number of years.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henderson for Christmas were: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Petersen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Petersen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Francis and children, Ted Poulos, all of Antioch, and Miss Shirley Hennings of Chicago.

Ice Skating Rink to Be Ready Soon

That the Antioch Lake ice rink is in good shape is good news for youngsters and "oldsters" who enjoy skating. Early snows had kept the ice covered until the past few days, however, warmer weather has partially cleared the ice and with the return of colder weather the rink should be in good shape.

An Antioch Lions club committee, headed by Ben Burke, has repaired the shelter house which was built by the club several years ago, and Irving Carey has installed the floodlighting system so that skating may be enjoyed in the evening.

With the rationing of gasoline making it impractical to go too far afield for recreation, Antioch's outdoor recreation possibilities will probably be a source of pleasure to many local sports lovers this winter.

News of the Boys in Service

We extend thanks and "same to you" to Pvt. Robert R. Willett, Co. "B," 99th Inf., Fort Ord, Calif., for a beautiful Christmas card.

And also "Cheery Christmas Greetings" from Sgt. O. Hawkins, 6th M. P. Hqd. Div., Deser. Maneuvers, c/o Postmaster, Los Angeles, Calif., A. I. O. 6. Orville's card was postmarked Dec. 19, 5 p. m., Yuma, Ariz.

Pvt. Junior O. Tweed has been transferred from Arkansas to Texas. His new address is 12th Medical Supply Depot, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

From Henry Neuhaus, under date of Dec. 21, comes a letter to the News, as follows:

Christmas is around the corner, and we are having snow and it's kind of white—the right kind of Christmas weather.

I have been looking over my correspondence. It's not much, not having home and folks, but what there is shows the Spirit and Will of the people back home. It was a surprise to me to receive the Antioch News and a present and letter from the Antioch Legion Post 748.

I am sorry to hear of your illness, and hope very much that you will be up and about by the time this letter reaches you, so you may spend Christmas at home and enjoy it.

I was released from service on Oct. 2, 1941, after 8 months of service, as over 28 years of age. A buddy of mine and myself asked for re-enlistment in December. Both of us then went to Chicago to see some friends.

I visited with Mitz, Bros. Trevor, for whom I have worked, then went to Racine and Milwaukee. I had planned to stay a few days around Antioch, but a cold spell and bad road conditions made me change my plans. We went back to Detroit, and there was our order to report to Ft. Custer. We were sent back to this post.

I had been with the military police as acting corporal of the guard. After my re-enlistment I was put back in my original outfit, the Q. M. C., as private first class. I am up for corporal now, according to my C. O.

I am writing this letter in our day room, which is decorated nicely, a nice big tree, the radio playing Christmas music. That's when the boys think of home.

Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Medical Replacement Training Center, Camp Berkeley, Texas, Dec. 19, 1942—Theodore Richard Uhlemann, 25, son of Richard H. Uhlemann, of Antioch, Ill., today completed training in the Medical Replacement Training Center's Officer Candidate school and received a commission as second lieutenant in the Medical Administrative corps.

Taking part in the graduation exercises were Brig. Gen. Roy C. Hefebower, commandant; Col. George E. Armstrong, assistant commandant; and Lt. Col. Charles L. Dricoll, school executive officer.

A former Sergeant Technician with the 5th Medical Supply Depot, Lt. Uhlemann attended the University of Illinois and Lake Forest college. He was an optician in civilian life.

Announce Quotas For Lake County Farm Machinery

Farm Machinery Applications Must Be Filed by Jan. 15

Quotas for farm machinery for Lake county farmers were received this week by the Lake County Farm Rationing Board, which maintains offices at Grayslake. Chester A. Faulkner, chairman of the board, states that all applications for the purchase of new machinery for use in putting in spring crops must be on file with the board before Jan. 15, 1943.

Only about 23% of the normal supply of farm machines will be available for purchase by farmers this year according to figures released by the board this week. That the decrease in allotment will undoubtedly work considerable hardship on Lake county farmers this year is a certainty, especially as farmers have been urged to increase production to speed the war effort. However, some satisfaction may be derived from the fact that repair parts for older machines will be available in greater numbers. One hundred and thirty-seven per cent has been set as the figure for repair parts and the board urges all farmers to recondition all usable machines before making application for new machinery.

Among new machines which will be available are two corn planters, two grain drills, seven spreaders, seven plows, 14 harrows, 18 cultivators, 16 tractors, five wagons, 50 milking machines, 3 cream separators, 5 milk coolers, 1 seeder, 1 rotary hoe, 4 hammer mills, elevators, one 10-hp. gasoline engine, 13 mowers, 10 hay rakes, 18 hay loaders, 6 combines, 6 corn pickers, 42 corn shellers.

The rationing board has asked that farmers repair old machinery and also that farmers who have adequate machinery cooperate with those less fortunate so that an increase in production may be possible.

SURGICAL DRESSING UNIT WILL REOPEN AFTER HOLIDAYS

The surgical dressing unit which was opened here under the sponsorship of the local Red Cross on Nov. 12, will resume work on Jan. 5, after being closed for two weeks during the holidays.

The unit maintains rooms in the Webb building over the Antioch 5 & 10. The rooms will be open on Tuesdays and Fridays from 9 a. m. until 4 o'clock and also Friday evening from 7 to 9 p. m.

Red Cross members urge all interested to help with this important work. Women are asked to bring a wash dress and head covering and they may report for work at any time the rooms are open. Materials will be furnished and trained instructors will be in charge of the work.

Kidnaper of Gary Botaford Indicted; Trial Set for Jan. 13

Indictments on five counts were returned this week by the grand jury against Mrs. Anne Tyrrell Lussier, accused of the abduction of 4-month-old Gary Botaford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Botaford of Waukegan.

Baby Botaford was returned to his parents Nov. 24 after having been discovered in Zion where Mrs. Lussier had taken him.

Unable to raise the $20,000 bail, Mrs. Lussier will remain in the county jail until the beginning of her trial, Jan. 13.

WHAT YOUR 10% WILL DO

New Selective Service Legislation Provides Farm Labor Deferments

Following the recent amendment by Congress of the Selective Service Act, an amendment designed to avert a grave shortage of labor engaged in the production of essential war agriculture, a new and comprehensive regulation was announced by Paul G. Armstrong, State Director of Selective Service.

The new regulation establishes classes II-C and III-C for men now engaged in agricultural production; sets up a new system for measuring farm produce in terms of "war units"; provides a table for determining the number of such war units to be awarded to the various listed farm products in terms of the number of acres in production and of farm animals; and requires every farm worker receiving a Class II-C or Class III-C deferment to remain at his farm job until such time as his local board, at the written request of the registrant, decides that such registrant would be more useful to the war effort in some other industry.

Registrants who desire to leave the farm and fail to obtain the local board's consent are subject to immediate reclassification and induction. Registrants whose requests for release to enter other employment are refused by the local board will have the right of appeal within a ten day period following the refusal of the local board to grant their release from the farm. Such appeals will be judged upon their merits by the established appeal boards of the system. Seasonal and temporary farm workers are excluded from consideration for Class II-C or III-C deferments.

Registrants who are raising crops of objection to being rationed could visit the boys as I did, you would realize the utter shame and infamy of your position. I could not help but think of the fact that the old rubber in one tire was enough to make two or three of those rafts which saved our lives and which are saving the lives of our armies every day.

Let's think about "Eddie" next time we groan about shortages and rationing.

Our mail nowadays contains a good many sheets from the United States Civil Service commission asking publication of information pertaining to opportunities in Civil Service.

Latest on the list are openings for boys and girls 16 years and up at Hines Memorial and Downey hospitals—$100 monthly and up; medical technicians; dental hygienists; staff dieticians; Air Service Command Sub-depots; Army Air Force aircraft mechanics, $1,800 to $2,200 a year. Information may be obtained at any postoffice.

Good-bye, Mr. 1942.

1943 License Plates Likely to Be Delayed

Difficulties in the transition from the steel to plastic impregnated fiber license plates are partly responsible for the delay in delivery of 1943 state license plates. Frequent labor turnover and slower than normal transportation facilities will also play a part in the later delivery date, according to Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes.

In spite of the abnormal industrial conditions and other factors, plates are expected to be ready for delivery shortly after Jan. 1, 1943.

The editor arrived home Dec. 23 and his condition is reported as favorable.

The Observer

George B. Bartlett, who is handling the fuel oil and gasoline rationing set up for Antioch township due to the illness of Supervisor Barney Naber, (Barney, by the way is getting along swell and will soon be out again), tells us that about 25 applications for fuel oil who have been allowed oil for heating purposes have not yet picked up their coupons. . . . The coupons were mailed and returned as undeliverable by the Antioch post office. . . . can't be they need the oil very badly.

About the new rationing program on fruits and vegetables. . . . speaks pretty well for the middle-west, that there have been no "runs" on the rationed articles. . . . Antioch grocers report that sales on the soon-to-be rationed commodities are normal.

Speaking of rationing. . . . Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, Ace war pilot with the air corps recently made this statement:

"I know that if those of us who are raising crops of objection to being rationed could visit the boys as I did, you would realize the utter shame and infamy of your position. I could not help but think of the fact that the old rubber in one tire was enough to make two or three of those rafts which saved our lives and which are saving the lives of our armies every day."

Pork Production School to Start Tuesday, Jan. 5

Complete Program for the Adult Evening Classes Is Announced

Advance enrollment for the adult evening school on "Increasing Pork Production" has been encouraging, C. L. Kuttel, instructor, announces.

When the class meets for its first session Jan. 5 at 8 p. m. in Antioch Township High school, a large group is expected to be present.

The first meeting will be devoted to a discussion of "The Hog Production Outlook for 1943" and "Selecting Breeding Stock."

Film to Be Shown

A sound movie, "Health, Happiness and Hogs," will be shown at the first meeting.

A "War Production Certificate" will be awarded to all who complete the course.

The program, in full, is to be as follows:

The Adult Farmers' evening school will open on Tuesday evening, January 5, at 8:00 o'clock at the Antioch High school. The course this year will consist of ten lessons, and the subject will be "Increasing Pork Production."

Interested parties are urged to enroll in advance with C. L. Kuttel, director of Vocational Agriculture at Antioch High school, although enrollment may be made at the first meeting.

Below is the program of lessons for the ten weeks course:

Jan. 5—Hog production outlook for 1943. War demands and what we as producers can do about them. Selecting breeding stock.

Jan. 12—How can we increase the number of pigs farrowed per sow and improve their vitality at birth? Cross breeds vs. pure-breeds.

Jan. 19—How can we reduce the losses of pigs at farrowing and immediately after farrowing? Pig brooder construction.

Jan. 26—A swine sanitation program to prevent parasites and diseases. Feb. 2—How to increase gains from farrowing to weaning time.

Feb. 9—How to increase gains from weaning to marketing. Hog pastures. Feb. 16—New pork producing practices and skills and what records to keep.

Feb. 23—How can we improve our housing and equipment for hogs? Construction of new type colony house.

Mar. 2—Home butchering. Cutting up carcasses, curing and smoking. Sausage making. Cold storage lockers.

Mar. 9—Livestock markets and when to market hogs.

Note—All these lessons will be supplemented by either motion pictures, additional literature, and demonstrations wherever possible.

LEGION SEEKS MORE ADDRESSES OF SERVICE MEN

Additional names and addresses of boys in the service are being sought by Antioch Post 748 of the American Legion, which has a notice printed elsewhere in this issue of the News.

Relatives or others who may know the most recent addresses of the following men are asked to notify the Legion, c/o Post Office Box No. 137, Antioch:

Antioch—Baronette, Virgil Charles; Burnette, Raymond; Bolton, Robert Keith; Crawford, Thomas; De Boer, Gordon Anton; Gussarson, Otto Hans; Kinney, Farnam William; Meyer, Arthur; Quedenfeld, Henry; Runyard, Clarence; Smith, Arthur Frank. Lake Villa—Anderson, Cecil; Armstrong, Arne; Bloom, Vernon, Jr.; Burr, William; Collins, John; Gremus, Joseph W.; Gustafson, Paul C., Jr.; John, James, Jr.; Jordan, Bert F.; Tanager, Robert; Williams, Jack.

Auto Fatalities in Illinois Show Sharp Decline

The number of persons killed in Illinois highway accidents during October this year was exactly one-half that for October, 1941. The figures: this year, 109; last year, 218. For the last seven months, up to the end of October, the death toll on the highways of the state has been lower than last year.

Statewide automobile travel, as measured by gasoline consumption, declined nineteen per cent during October.

Pvt. Richard Chapman of Stewart Field, West Point, N. Y., spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chapman at their home at Indian Point.

No Substitute for Freedom

As free American citizens we have found we can meet the test of war. We have the ability to get things done. We have courage and daring. Our men have shown in stark heroism that on the military front we are not soft. We can fight with the tricks our forefathers learned from the Indians, and we can fight with machines. Guadalcanal and North Africa have proven that. In brief, we can win the war.

But there is more than the military front. There is the home front. And here, except for the production miracle of industry, there is evidence of softness, of confusion of ideals. Group bickering has put the attainment of personal comfort and security ahead of the national welfare. In many quarters a desire to eliminate human want at one fell swoop has become an obsession. An agency of government has even prepared a new bill of rights, the basic tenet of which is economic security. This new bill is proposed as a supplement to the old bill defining our liberties at the time the United States Constitution was adopted. It puts security on a par with freedom, on the theory that the American people will abandon freedom if they are not guaranteed three square meals a day. It implies that the American people, bitter from the "great depression" and fearful of post-war uncertainty, do not propose to go hungry; that if they cannot have their freedom with full stomachs, they will do without freedom.

If such is true, we have drifted far from the ideals the Pilgrims carried ashore at Plymouth Rock. Even as our men on the battlefields are now dying, the Pilgrims died and suffered hardship for just one reason: to preserve a spot on this globe where the individual could be free. And they got that freedom. They got it because they were tough. Their ideals came first, their stomachs second. Our men are winning battles now because they are tough. They are thinking of freedom.

A year ago there was a grave question in the minds of millions as to whether we could arm fast enough to stem the tide of aggression. There was an equally grave question of whether we could do it without destroying free enterprise and representative government. There were those who believed it would take total dictatorship to beat the dictators. The challenge fell on industry. The machines had to be built by industry. Our natural resources and our factories had to be mobilized for war on a scale that wrought shattering changes in technique and precedent. Industry knew that the cracker-box agitators were waiting to pounce upon the country with revolutionary schemes at the slightest sign of failure.

It is to the credit of thinking government officials that revolutionary changes in government and industry were not forced before free enterprise had a chance to show what it could do to prove that our democracy was not a failure. Our factories did a magnificent job. In a matter of months, they underwent retooling and conversion. Today tanks, planes, guns, ships, are rolling off the assembly lines by the scores of thousands. Our war production has caught and passed the dictator enemy who spent years producing for war under an elaborate "economic security" program by which its very completeness had destroyed individual freedom—the same years that our industries continued to produce for America's unarmament, peaceful millions. Back of the manufacturers stand American farm producers and distributors, together with the metal and coal mines, the oil, the power and transportation industries. They feed our war workers and keep the materials moving into the assembly lines.

The end of the war may be distant still, yet it is in sight. Again free enterprise faces a challenge. And again it faces it against a backdrop of threats. Those threats are cloaked in the prevalent idea that a full stomach is an inalienable right. Far-sighted leaders know that the challenge of the post-war world will be the toughest of all. It will be far tougher than the facts justify because of demagogic attempts to soften our people with illusory social dreams of total "economic security."

But industry is making its plans. These plans will have to be daring. Industry must go on the offensive. It must show that unprecedented production under a system of free enterprise is the only sure way to build a lasting peace under the banner of individual freedom. It must lay the groundwork for this production now. And it must have the wholehearted cooperation of all Americans on the home front. There is no room for the labor racketeer any more than for the exploiting capitalist or the faithless politician.

We on the home front must do a lot of clear thinking. We must now be hardened by a determination that above all else we must have the right of the individual to be free. We must realize now, and in the peace to come, that individual freedom is more important than individual comfort. Bitter experience has demonstrated that without freedom there can be neither comfort nor security. We must reaffirm our belief in our Constitutional government.

Japanese Problem

The uprising at Manzanar, the Japanese camp in California, where alien Japanese as well as American-born Japanese are being held for the duration, has brought public attention to a condition that requires careful consideration. This uprising showed clearly that there are a percentage of dangerous Japanese in this country. Not only are they dangerous to everything that is American, but they are dangerous to thousands of Japanese who are undoubtedly loyal citizens.

Apparently the hatred of the Japanese who caused the trouble at Manzanar, is as strong or stronger toward the Japanese who are loyal to this country, as it is toward Americans. Hence the lives of such Japanese are endangered when they are confined in the same locations with the alien Japanese.

The problem is a most difficult one when our government is obliged to confine American-born Japanese as well as alien Japanese. As long as dire necessity requires such action, however, it is evident the two groups must be segregated.

Furthermore, some method of procedure must be evolved to give the loyal Japanese a chance to prove their loyalty so that they will not be forced to associate with the aggressive alien Japanese whose avowed purpose is to sabotage and destroy if given that opportunity in the United States.

The people have confidence that our government will correct this situation with full consideration of the safety and humanitarian issues involved.

Dangerous Hoarding

Illegal hoarding of gasoline is a far cry from storing a few extra cans of food. W. E. Mallalieu, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, observes that few people realize the potentially deadly hazard of gasoline. Gasoline vapors in a room can be just as explosive as they are in the cylinders of an automobile engine. One pint of gasoline fully vaporized will render 200 cubic feet of air flammable and explosive, and quite capable of wrecking walls that may confine it.

People who store gasoline in makeshift containers are practically inviting disaster. Such methods are particularly hazardous in basements. Containers are seldom tight. Gasoline vapor can readily be ignited from the furnace. The seriousness of this hazard can be recognized by the fact that storage of gasoline without express permission is prohibited by many standard fire insurance policies. Even the so-called "safety can" is usually far from safe. Few of these containers are new and some of them may contain a small amount of water which will eventually produce a rust hole, thus permitting a slow leakage of the gasoline. This may not be noticed until a dangerous accumulation of vapor has resulted.

Perhaps the greatest danger to life is involved when the hoarder pours the gas into his car. It is practically impossible to avoid spilling a little and an invisible spark from static electricity is all that is needed to produce maiming or death.

Hoarding gasoline is a foolhardy policy. Sooner or later it will result in tragedy to the person who thus defies common-sense laws that are seeking to bring this country through the war without a breakdown in motor transportation.

Antioch Has No Corner on "Freak" Events

"Funny Business as Usual," Despite War, Safety Council Reports

(Editor's Note:—We thought that if funnier things happened, it would be in Antioch, but maybe we were wrong. Read on—)

(By Paul Jones)

Director of Public Information National Safety Council Chicago, Dec. 13—In the topsy-turvy year of 1942 one bit of Americana remained unchanged. Unusual accidents kept on happening as usual.

A roundup by the National Safety Council of dizzy mishaps for the year reveals that war or no war, a lot of people found time to do amazing things in amazing ways. For instance:

Saleslady Bessie Swank of Bridgeport, N. J., tried valiantly to fit a small girdle on a plump customer. She tugged so hard she was taken to the hospital with a severe back injury. The customer took the girdle.

Eugene B. Grabbe of Denver has never been a circus trapeze performer, but he could be. Washing windows on the seventh floor of the U. S. National Bank building, he started to fall as the buckle on his safety belt gave way. Grabbe hurled himself backward with such force that he floated through the air with the greatest of ease, cleared a 16-foot space and landed on his feet atop an adjacent four-story building. He broke both legs, but considered himself lucky.

In New Orleans a cat scratched Mrs. Julien Hebert. She wrathfully grabbed a revolver and pursued the cat. She tripped over her small son and the gun went off, shooting the child in the knee. Horror-stricken, Mrs. Hebert hurled the gun into the back yard. It went off again, shot Mr. Hebert in the foot. The cat escaped.

Joe Konecny of Great Bend, Kan., had stored his car in a garage at Little Rock, Ark., to make an auto trip with a friend. As he and his friend were driving along near Mountain Home, Ark., their car collided head-on with another machine. Both cars were wrecked. When Konecny crawled from the wreckage and looked at the other car, he saw that it was his own. It has been stolen from the Little Rock garage.

Wallace D. Smith of Louisville, Ky., was flying an airplane at a low altitude when he saw a girl he thought he knew. He waved at her. She waved back. Pleased but distracted, Pilot Smith flew his plane into a tree. An electric light wire and another tree top, where he ended his trip. He shimmied down, hurried to the girl to assure her he wasn't hurt. She wasn't the girl he had thought she was, but a total stranger.

Mrs. Columbo Fannuchi of Stockton, Cal., believes a bicycle rider should observe the same traffic rules as auto drivers. She obediently thrust out her hand to signal a left turn. It went through the window of a passing car, broke her arm.

Consider the confusion of Nick Pallo of Coraopolis, Pa., who tried to throw a cigarette out of his car and threw himself out instead. His elbow struck the door handle, the door swung open, and out plopped Mr. Pallo. The war didn't keep odd accidents from happening, but it did influence them. To wit:

Private John Fein was shaving informally in the nude in his barracks at Williams Field, Arizona, when a fly attacked him from the rear. Private Fein took a vicious swipe at the intruder with his straight-edge razor. He killed the fly, and was able to resume shaving after hospital attendants had applied an eight-inch bandage to his posterior.

A soldier who can sympathize with Private Fein is Sergeant Joseph Baily of Danville, Pa. Happily digging a ditch at Camp Polk, Sergeant Baily looked down to see a snake coiled around his ankle. He raised his trench shovel, brought it down full force. The blow broke his leg. The snake slithered away unharmed.

At Yorkshire, England, Aviation Cadet Derek M. Sharp fell out of a training plane 500 feet up. As he tumbled through space, something booped him on the head. Instinctively he raised his arms and found himself hugging the tail of his own plane. He managed to wiggle himself up on the plane's elevator surfaces. All this made the plane bounce, and when the pilot learned the reason he made a quick and careful landing. Cadet Sharp was unhurt.

Clarence Parker, 21-year-old navy gunner's mate from Belleville, Ill., went through the battles of Pearl Harbor, Marshall and Gilbert Islands, Coral Sea and Midway without a scratch. Home on leave, he was seriously injured when his father's automobile overturned on a slippery highway.

Back to civilians again, there is the case of the C. W. Bruce of Tillamook, Ore. Mrs. Bruce started to toss a small object into the stove, halted when one of her small children asked to look at it. The child faked it, started to chew on it. Mr. Bruce came along, realized with horror that it was a blasting cap, gently took it away from the child. He poked at it curiously with a toothpick and blew off two of his fingers.

More fortunate was Mrs. August Maguire of New York City. Cleaning top, where he ended his trip. He shimmied down, hurried to the girl to assure her he wasn't hurt. She wasn't the girl he had thought she was, but a total stranger.

In Milford Center, Ohio, Carl Kaufman was treated for chills after being trapped in a packing house refrigerator for four hours. Three hours later he was treated for burns when his truck caught fire.

John Graves of Chicago found his upstairs bedroom stuffy on a summer's eve and decided to open another window. It stuck, then shot up suddenly. Graves plunged out the window to the pavement 15 feet below. He escaped with minor bruises.

In Marion, Ohio, a pheasant flew against Fred Maag's windshield as he drove along, breaking a hole in it. Through the opening, flew a bee. Mr. Maag fought off the bee, lost control of the car and it overturned. Mr. Maag climbed out of the wreckage unhurt, unscathed.

Every year, too, someone gets hit by an auto as he sits some place a car shouldn't be. In 1942 it was Frederick A. Rail of Williamstown, Conn. Listening to a baseball game over his living room radio, Mr. Rail was struck by a driverless car that had rolled down a hill, over the curb and through the wall into Mr. Rail's house.

A driver in Charlotte, N. C., slammed on his brakes in a hurry when he heard a shrill cry for help directly in front of his car. Leaping out, he found an indignant parrot strutting majestically across the street. The parrot belonged to Miss Madeline Crow. The driver said his name did not matter, but it definitely wasn't Sparrow.

And then there was the Japanese submarine which collided with a Greyhound bus in one of the oddest war engagements. The sub, captured in the Pacific, was being paraded through the streets of San Francisco on a truck in a war-bond drive, when the truck hit the bus. No casualties.

Health . . . Happiness . . . Success . . . and Peaceful Prosperity

The Fervent Hope for One and All—

In this wonderful America of ours we should be very thankful for living in a country where "Democracy" is still more than just a word. We can count it a great blessing to be living among real friends and good neighbors.

Let us resolve, for the coming year, to do our part to preserve the rights that are our heritage . . . that no single act of any of us will endanger this heritage . . . with this in mind, The Antioch News wishes to express its appreciation of your cooperation in the past and pledges itself to cooperate with you again in 1943 in the truly American Way.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 27.

The Golden Text was, "If ye love me, keep my commandments, and I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth" (John 14:15-17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. However when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak; and he will show you things to come" (John 16:12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God. Our Master said, 'I am the Comforter... I shall teach you all things.' When the Science of Christianity appears, it will lead you into all truth" (p. 271).

THE SUPREME TASK

No age is materially and spiritually sufficient unto itself, neither is there any age without its imperishable value. Only the total contribution of all ages will suffice for the realization of the divine plan for the universe. Therefore, to accept from the past the residue of eternal values, mingle its creative energy with present discoverable resources, fuse the whole into a Divine-human component, and transmute it to posterity, is the supreme task of man. (W. C. B.)

The Methodist Church of Antioch invites you to assist in making its full contribution toward the fulfillment of the divine plan by becoming a regular attendant at our worship, and by sharing in our sacrifices and labors.

Church School at 9:45 a. m. and Sunday worship at 11:00 a. m. each Sunday. Bring your family, friends and friends.

Warren C. Henslow, Minister.

"THE GOAL OF A NEW WORLD ORDER"

In the introductory article to "The Goal of a New World Order," Shoghi Effendi looks back over the years that have passed, since the world war, years of unceasing turmoil, laden with anguish and fraught with incalculable consequences to the future civilization.

He reviews conditions which have led the world to the verge of a calamity too awful to contemplate. In his unerring judgment, 'Abdu'l-Baha, the interpreter of the Baha'i teachings, saw in the Peace Treaties the seeds of bitter disappointment and raised his voice, to an unheeding humanity.

"Sad indeed," says the author, "is the contrast between the manifestation of confident enthusiasm in which the plenipotentiaries at Versailles so freely indulged and the cry of unrelenting distress which Victor and Vanquished alike are now raising in the hour of bitter delusion."

In the following article the author gives further consideration to the inadequacy, in concept and practice, of the instruments with which the victorious powers have sought to establish and promote their lofty ideals.

A War-Wearry World

"Neither the force which the framers and guarantors of the Peace Treaties have mustered, nor the lofty ideal which originally animated the author of the Covenant of the League of Nations have proved a sufficient bulwark against the forces of internal disruption with which a structure so laboriously contrived had been consistently assailed. Neither the provisions of the so-called Settlement which the victorious Powers have sought to impose, nor the machinery of an institution which America's illustrious and far-seeing President (Woodrow Wilson) have proved, either in conception or practice, adequate instruments to ensure the integrity of the Order they have striven to establish. The ill from which the world now suffers, wrote 'Abdu'l-Baha, will multiply; the gloom which envelops it will deepen. The Balkans will remain discontented. Its restless-guess will increase. The Vanquished Powers will continue to agitate. They will resort to every measure that may rekindle the flame of war. Movements, newly-born and world-wide in their range, will exert their utmost effort for the advancement of their designs. The Movement of the left will acquire great importance. Its influence will spread."

"Economic distress, since those words were written, together with political confusion, financial upheavals, religious restlessness and racial animosities, seem to have conspired to add immeasurably to the burdens under which an impoverished, a war-weary world is groaning. Such has been the cumulative effect of these successive crises, following one another with such bewildering rapidity, that the very foundations of society are trembling. The world, to which ever confident we turn our gaze, to however remote a region our survey may extend, is everywhere assailed by forces it can neither explain nor control."

Europe, hitherto regarded as the cradle of highly wanted civilization, undrinking of the forces of world peace as the torch-bearer of liberty and the industry and commerce, stand bewildered and paralyzed at the sight of so tremendous an upheaval. Long-cherished ideals in the political no less than in the economic sphere of human activity are being severely tested under the pressure of reactionary forces on one hand and of an insidious and persistent radicalism on the other. The clamor of nationalism, coupled with a recrudescence of skepticism and nihilism, come as added misfortunes to a continent hitherto regarded as a symbol of age-long stability and undisturbed resignation. Not even America, which until very recently prided itself on its traditional policy of aloofness and the self-contained character of its economy, the invulnerability of its institutions and the evidence of its growing prosperity and prestige, has been able to resist the impelling forces that have swept her into the vortex of an economic hurricane that has threatened and still threatens to impair the basis of her own industrial and economic life."

"The Goal of a New World Order" was published November 28, 1931, from Haifa, Palestine.

The next article in the series will be "The Signs of Impending Chaos."

(Written for last week)

GIVING

This week we pause to pay tribute to the revealer of the noble Gospel, Jesus the Christ.

It is at the Christmas Season that we demonstrate one of the great and fundamental laws which the Christ taught, the Law of Giving. Real giving is not confined to material things but includes love, service, good-will and even a handshake or smile, which so but count in the eyes of God who rewards accordingly. No one can say he has nothing to give, when love is the greatest of gifts. Jesus said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," and proved this by giving His life that men might be freed from the imperfections of the physical nature and become possessed of the virtue and become possessed of the virtue of the spiritual nature.

"Consider a candle how it gives its light, it weeps its life away drop by drop in order to give forth its flame of light." Also, think of the fountain, how it is continually emptying itself of all that it has and is continually being refilled from an invisible resource. We should be as the fountain always giving of what we have for the good of our fellows undeterred by any fear of poverty and relying on the unfailing bounty of the Source of all wealth and all good. This is the secret of right living and right giving.

There is a contagious warmth in this act of Christmas giving. It brings a glow to our faces, a mellowness to our voices, a sparkle to our eyes. Before we know it, our souls are flooded with gratitude and generosity. Joy and peace flow from us like a river. It is the true Christmas Spirit!

If only the world could retain this spirit throughout the entire year, strife among men would cease. Wars and rumors would be melted into plowshares, spears into pruning hooks, because righteousness then would cover the earth as the waters cover the sea.

This is a word picture of the real Christmas Spirit and in this spirit we wish the Antioch News, its staff and its readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Knitwear Keeps You Warm and Smartly Attired All Day Long

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUCH a spurge of things knitted of gay and beautiful yarns in intricate patterns and unique designs as fashion is making this season.

Pullovers, cardigans by day and bed jackets by night; smart tailored woolknit jackets for town wear; sweaters for casual wear, for sports or attuned to dine-and-dance wear; waistcoats, vests and dickeys too stunning for words; jerkins, too, to add extra warmth and to sound a convincing note of chic—this is the message fashion is broadcasting from the knitted realm in answer to the challenge of prospective lowered room temperatures in houses, theaters and stores this winter due to fuel restrictions, and of gas rationing, which will cause us to walk more than ever before.

One of the outstanding items of interest in the new collections is the waistcoat, now being revived in all its former glory. Note the smart checked knitted vest, or waistcoat, shown to the left in the above picture. Here's warmth for you underwritten with a declaration of definite chic. Choose it in yellow, gray and white check as shown here, and you will make no mistake. Add a hundred per cent Australian wool sweater and you will have the kind of protection that cruel wintry blasts will find it difficult to penetrate.

As to tailor-knit jackets, they are not missing a fashion "trick" in their styling. They are taking the place of the gay tweed jackets (at least) which have been so conspicuously present for many seasons.

It takes mastery styling to achieve a knitted jacket as smart and patriotic looking as the model shown at the lower right in the illustration. This navy and white tailored knit jacket is one hundred per cent wool. As pictured it is worn with wool slacks. It would be equally as good-style worn with a dress or with a separate skirt.

As to the new sweaters, volumes could be written about them. The prospect is that there will be a stampede this winter for both utilitarian types and evening modes of dazzling mien.

College girls are making a mad rush for twin sweater sets, a pull-over teamed with a jacket sweater type. Fashion is especially featuring shaggy effects, with teddy-bear cardigans in the lead. White sweaters with vivid wool embroidery and novelty yarn fringe trimming are particularly in the spotlight this season.

Evening sweaters provide a theme for poets to sing of and painters to glorify in portraiture. To say that they dazzle the eye is not a figure of speech, but literally so. The big news about them is their glittering embroidery. The white woolknit evening sweater shown above to the right is elegantly embroidered with pearls and fine gold braid. Note the novel bracelet embroidered directly on the knitted surface. Long "cultured" pearls, diamond earrings and a dainty spray-pin of pearls for the hair complete the jewelry ensemble.

By the way, it's correct to wear beads and jewelry with daytime sweaters as well as with evening knits. The smart young modern pictured in the group wearing the checked knitted vest is very appropriately flaunting a new version of the popular bangle bracelets in light and dark amber set in gold. Also, she is proudly wearing an amber ring set in gold and a chateaufort gold watch suspended by a chain from a gold key pin.

Glitter Brightens Simple Dark Wools

The fact that simple little daytime wool frocks, and even knitted modes, are highlighted with glitter accents in the way of bead work and sequin embroidery is very style-significant. Two outstanding trends in the use of glitter notes give variety to the mode.

The one is the positioning of a single motif of sequin-worked flowers on frocks that are otherwise styled with extreme simplicity. An afternoon frock of either velvet or crepe that interprets this technique makes for good style this season.

The other gesture in adding the sparkle highlight is seen in alluring sheer yokes that top otherwise simple dark dresses. These yokes are often as filmy as chiffon or sheer weave can make them, and they take on glamour in that they are finished off at the lower edge with a handworked jewelry effect or a huge bowknot done in sequins. Sometimes the treatment is varied in that the filmy yoke is allover studded with seed pearls or sparkling tiny beads.

Neckline Notes

Both long and short dresses often have low square necklines and plunging V-necks. There is a disposition on the part of designers to create such fascinating, artful effects that the rest of the dress is styled with extreme simplicity as to better accent the chic and charm of the ingenious neckline. Accents of sequins, embroidery and filmy black lace add to the picture.

Quilted Satin

Quilted satin in pastel colors is a new medium for collar and cuff sets. Yokes with square necklines and dickeys with round "jewelry" necklines are popular. For full-ins for velvet suits there are metal cloth dickeys in high colors, such as emerald, purple and fuchsia red.

Yarn Ensemble

This most intriguing hat and muff set goes to show the perfectly charming things that are being done with gay yarns this season. The flattering hat with its pert tall-pointed crown, together with the huge muff, is in a beautiful shade of turquoise blue yarn with black jet beads decorating the fringe. The enormous muff is a crochet and knit masterpiece. A dramatic jewelry ensemble of highly polished faceted jet adds the perfect touch to this accessory group.

Fluid Drape

The one dress that stands pre-eminently forth as making a grand success of it from the very beginning of the season is the silhouette dress of crepe, satin, or rayon or of wool jersey, that is made with utmost simplicity, its importance centering about the exquisiteness of its fluid drape that swings it into graceful slenderizing lines.

LAKE VILLA

The Lake County Red Cross will open a training unit for instruction in surgical dressings on Jan. 4, 5 and 6 at the school house under direction of Mrs. Bess Reidel and Mrs. William Marz. Those taking the first course of instruction here are Mrs. William Weber, Mrs. Ray Hussey, Mrs. Joe Nader, Mrs. Haley, Mrs. Gunnarson and Mrs. John Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mack and son visited relatives in Chicago on Christmas day and John Cribb and sons were guests of Harold Cribb and family in Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schneider and Arlyn visited their daughter, Mrs. Gordon Blumenschein and family, at South Bend, Ind., a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kerr, all of Lake Villa, Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Ra George Mitchell, Helen Ann and Mrs. Harriet Mitchell, Mrs. Irving Young of Chicago, also Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell of Sand Lake, and the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. MacArthur enjoyed the hospitality of the William Weber family on Christmas day.

The W. S. C. S. will meet Wednesday, Jan. 6, with Mrs. Fred Hamlin at her home for the first meeting of the year and the quarterly pot-luck dinner to celebrate the October, November and December birthdays for members and friends. Dinner served at noon and business meeting follows at 2 o'clock. Visitors are welcome.

The W. S. C. S. will also serve at the U.S. on Belvidere street in Waukegan on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 2, and will appreciate contributions of cookies and sandwiches for that day.

The Christmas program at the church last Wednesday evening was an enjoyable affair and well attended. The Primary children gave an informal program of recitations and Christmas songs and the Juniors gave a short play, "Christmas Candles." Santa Claus was present to distribute small gifts as well as oranges, apples and nuts. These were furnished through gifts from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson, the Lions club and the local fire department, to all of whom we are very grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamlin entertained their son, Clayton and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Reidel at dinner on Christmas day.

Mrs. Ella Talbot has gone to Waukegan to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Vera Philippi and family.

Eddie Ring, six-year-old twin son of Mrs. Ring who lives in the Leonard house with her family, slipped and fell Monday of last week, breaking a bone in one leg and cracking another, so has one leg in a cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Von Oeyen of Petite Lake Park were in Chicago to spend Christmas with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wallner entertained Mrs. Wallner, Sr., Miss Elsie Wallner and sister, Mrs. Paul Boebe, her husband and son, at a Christmas eve celebration at the Wallner home east of town, and on Christmas day Mrs. Avis Burke of Libertyville and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Greene of Waukegan were guests of the combined Manzer, Boehms and Wallner families.

Mrs. Daisy Rhiney left Sunday to take the train from Waukegan to go to Ishpeming, Mich., to spend the winter there with her daughter, Mrs. Maud Milnacky.

SHOP WISELY --- SHOP WELL

Remember These Six Points in Your Daily Buying!

RATIONING:

Rationing safeguards your share of goods that are scarce. Co-operate with the government and your local merchant in making rationing work—whether it's sugar or tires. Remember, it's not smart to get more than your share.

PRICE CONTROL:

Price Control protects you from rapidly rising prices—safeguards your budget. Understand the regulation and what it means to you. Then, work with—not against—your merchant.

PLAN SHOPPING TRIPS:

Make one well-planned shopping trip do the work of several. That's one way to prevent needless purchases and unnecessary returns.

SHARE YOUR CAR:

Car sharing saves gas, rubber and machines. If you must use a car for shopping, team up with your friends. Make one car do the work of four.

Don't ask for Unnecessary Deliveries:

Unnecessary deliveries waste gas, rubber and trucks. Carry home small bundles yourself. That's one way to make our tires outlast the Axis.

TAKE CARE OF WHAT YOU HAVE:

Making things last longer is the patriotic duty of every American in wartime. Have your household appliances repaired whenever possible. Don't throw them away. When in doubt call a repair man.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Reds' Middle Don Drive Toward Rostov Perils Huge Nazi Armies in Caucasus; French Pace Allied Tunisia Offensive; Wavell's Burma Campaign Aids Chinese

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

A French soldier (center) chats affably with a British Tommy and two helmeted American troops in Algiers. What are they discussing? How long it will take to drive the Axis out of Tunisia into the Mediterranean. Then the offensive against Europe.

SOVIET SURPRISE:

Offensive Perils Nazis

Two other Soviet offensives had been launched earlier—the first at Stalingrad and the second to the northwest near Rzhev. Both had taken their toll of Nazi men and equipment. Neither had threatened disaster to the German winter occupation of Russia.

But now had come the third Red offensive—this time aimed at the Middle Don area. It had started much the same as the other two, with drives through German communications, the capture of air fields and the cutting off of rail lines and roads. This third offensive, however, had a momentum and continuity the other two had lacked. Its apparent objective: To capture strategic Rostov and cut off all the German troops in the Don-Volga-Caucasus area.

How well this roughshod drive had succeeded over German resistance was indicated by a Red high command communique announcing the capture of Kamensk, rail and communications center only 35 miles from Rostov. The fall of Myrnozhskaya on the Moscow-Rostov railroad was also reported. In a single week's operations 60,000 Nazis were killed or captured, the Reds announced. So rapid and furious had been the assault that 1,000,000 Axis troops in the Caucasus and Don-Volga area appeared to be in imminent danger of being cut off.

Soviet communiques reported that German armies in the vicinity of Novaya Kalitva and Kazanskaya had "retreated in disorder," abandoning equipment and supplies in their flight. Further confirmation that the Nazis were reeling back before the Soviet sweep came in German high command admissions that the Russians had broken into the Axis defense front on the central Don after attacking "with a strongest concentration of tank formations."

RETAIL PRICES:

To Be Standardized

Starting with meats and soaps, retail prices for foods and other grocery items were scheduled for standardization under a new program announced by the Office of Price Administration.

Under the new plan starting January 15, individual ceiling prices for grocery items, based on March, 1942, levels, was to be replaced by a flat dollars and cents price ceiling. Purpose of the new order, officials said, was to establish a simpler method of determining what the top legal price should be. The plan specified that retail stores be grouped as independents, chains, and supermarkets. Each store in the same class would have the same ceiling prices.

Standard prices were to be of two types—either fixed dollar and cents, or percentage markup.

OPA officials declared that the new regulations would eliminate a lot of reports and paper work.

BURMA:

Wavell Marches

The Burma road and China still lay many leagues distant, but Gen. Archibald Wavell's British Imperialists had begun the long march from India designed ultimately to sweep the Japs out of Burma and establish direct and effective junction with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's hard-pressed Chinese armies.

Content with methodically taking first things first, the British concentrated on nearby objectives. Striking suddenly between the Bay of Bengal and the Masu river, Wavell drove into Burma with the Japanese coastal air base at Akyab as his initial target. In the first stages of the campaign enemy resistance had been slight. Jap strategists had apparently relied on the dense Burma jungle to impede British progress while they organized in force to hold key objectives.

Air power assumed an important part in the campaign, with British planes bombing Jap-held towns along their route and American planes striding Lashio, Burmese terminal of the Burma road. In retaliation the Japs bombed Calcutta. Long-range significance of Wavell's move would be greater than its immediate results, military observers agreed. First, by moving aggressively into Burma, Wavell was safeguarding wavering India. Moreover he was obtaining close-up operating space for his air forces to harry Jap holdings at Rangoon and Mandalay. But most important of all, the Allies were giving China visible proof that they were capable of deeds as well as words.

NORTH AFRICA:

Rommel Marathon

Deeper into Tripolitania the remnants of Marshal Rommel's Afrika Korps had plunged. In spite of British General Montgomery's brilliant flanking move hemming in the Nazis' rear guard, the retreating main German body was able to continue its move.

Several alternatives had been open to the now-defeated Rommel. One was to make a stand at Misrata, but since his previous efforts at such tactics proved fruitless, military prognosticators were convinced his destination was non-stop to Tunisia to join Gen. Walther Nehring.

Further to the west Allied air power had steadily stepped up its tempo and this growing plane strength hinted at an early end to the stalemate which had characterized the Tunisia front in recent weeks. Land fighting was still of a desultory nature, but in the air the United Nations were increasing the intensity of their attacks against Tunis and Bizerte.

That the Allied command had prepared grimly and well for its all-out attack on Tunis and Bizerte was evident in its use of French North African forces to envelop the Axis positions from the south and east. Radio Morocco quoting a French communique said the French had struck toward the east coast south-east of Pont du Fahs, 30 miles south of Tunis, taking numerous prisoners, guns and supplies.

AXIS CONFERENCE:

Mediterranean Moves?

Known only to those who were hurriedly summoned to Hitler's headquarters were the subjects discussed when Count Galeazzo Ciano and Chief of Staff Marshal Ugo Cavallero of Italy met with the Fuehrer, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and chief of the high command Gen. Wilhelm Keitel. But observers were quick to point out that new Axis moves in Italy, France and Africa were to be expected.

Two immediate facts of significance were noted in the meeting. One was the absence of Mussolini—an absence which strengthened current reports concerning his serious illness. The other was the summoning to the conference of Pierre Laval, Vichy premier of France and arch-collaborator with the Axis.

With Hitler stubbornly defending his last footholds in Africa and with Italian civilian morale shaken by repeated Allied bombing attacks, moves calculated to bolster both situations faced the Axis chieftains. Still an ominous question-mark in the Mediterranean-Africa theater was Franco-ruled Spain. While the Spanish dictator had mobilized his army in the south perilously close to Gibraltar and Morocco and had used his radio for brash Axis propaganda, he had not yet violated his neutrality pledge. But the meeting of his foreign minister Count Jordana with Portuguese Premier De Oliveira simultaneously with the Axis conference was regarded by some observers as a cause for misgiving by the Allies.

BUTTER:

Rationed in Canada

Forecasting an action which many experts believe will be inevitable in this country, Canada officially undertook to ration butter by coupon with a weekly allowance of one-half a pound per person.

Butter became the fifth commodity rationed by coupon in the Dominion. The others are gasoline, sugar, tea and coffee. Rubber, particularly for tires, is likewise rationed, but not by coupon. Voluntary rationing exists with a few other commodities, notably meat.

Chairman Donald Gordon of the Wartime Price and Trade board said that butter rationing had been made necessary because of hoarders. "Some greedy and unscrupulous people," he charged, "aggravated local butter shortages and placed a serious strain on the distribution of the commodity. As a result panic buying was in evidence."

RICKENBACKER:

'Shame and Infamy'

"I know that if those of us who are raising cries of objection to being rationed could visit the boys as I did, you would realize the utter shame and infamy of your position." This was part of the sermon Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker delivered to the

CAPTAIN EDDIE RICKENBACKER
"If you'd seen the boys."

American people when he told by radio the story of his miraculous rescue following 23 days in a rubber raft after being forced down in the Pacific with members of a plane's crew on a military mission.

"Speaking as a private citizen," the famous hero added, "I plead for additional effort, an all-out, total effort, to the end that we may increase production of planes, ships, guns, ammunition and all supplies that our fighting men must have in greater abundance."

NEW GUINEA:

3-Ply Offensive

General MacArthur's New Guinea offensive continued with mopping up activities after the significant capture of Buna village—enemy bastion on the northeast coast of the Papuan peninsula.

Two immediate objectives had remained before MacArthur undertook the large task of completely dislodging the Japs from New Guinea. One was to clean up the Buna Mission area, take over its airfields and completely liquidate the remaining Jap defenders. The other was to continue the pressure against enemy positions at Salamaua.

It was significant of the increasingly efficient American service of supply that for the first time since he undertook the offensive that General MacArthur was able to launch attacks with "co-ordinated support of tanks, artillery and aviation."

A communique from Allied headquarters disclosed that 13-ton American-built General Stuart tanks had been in action in the swamps and jungles of New Guinea. The communique also reported the destruction of two medium-sized Japanese cargo vessels in Finschhafen harbor, 150 miles north of Buna.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

BERN: Reports were current here that Italian military authorities, concerned over United Nations' air raids were evacuating civilians from Nice on the Mediterranean coast of France and from Trieste, Florence and Bologna, Italy. Reports also stated that Albanian patriots had clashed with Italian troops in Tirana during a demonstration against Italian occupation of that country.

ORAN: All merchant ships in North and West Africa have been taken over by the Allies and are being used as transports or to maintain economic stability in North Africa, it was announced by American military authorities. Vessels now in Allied service include those at Dakar, Algiers, Oran and other French Colonial seaports. The number of ships was not disclosed.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for January 3

THE GLORY OF THE SON OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—John 1:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—"And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth." John 1:14.

A New Year! It brings a thrill to our hearts, for even in this year of our Lord 1943 we may look forward with expectancy to God's blessing upon us and be hopeful that better things are ahead. Yet we do so with a sense of sadness as we realize that our world is so far from God, and with a deep feeling of responsibility for our life and testimony in the coming months.

There could be no better way to begin any year—and certainly not this year—than by the study of God's Word. This should be done in the home and in the church, but may we suggest that this is an especially good time to enter into the fellowship of your local Sunday school.

Were we to select a Scripture portion with which to start the year we could not find a finer one than the Gospel according to John.

The purpose of the Gospel is stated in 20:31 as being "that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through His name." This first lesson of the series reveals the glory of Christ.

I. In the Beginning—the Living Word (vv. 1-3).

God reveals Himself to man. As the word is the express image of the thought, so in an infinitely greater sense Christ, the Living Word, is the express image of God (see Heb. 1:1-3).

In "the beginning," spoken of in Genesis 1:1, Jesus Christ already "was" (v. 1); and He not only "was with God," but He Himself "was God." He, the Living Word, the complete and final revelation of God as both Creator and Redeemer, was the infinite and eternal God. He came to bring to man the reassuring message of God's redeeming love.

The profound depth of these verses is beyond the deepest thinker, but their glorious message of redemption is simple enough for the understanding of the youngest child. We may receive truth which we cannot fully understand and be blessed by it.

II. In the World—the True Light (vv. 4-11).

He is both the life and the light of men. In fact, His life was the light that shined (yes, and still shines) in the darkness of this world, revealing God's love.

But the world did not receive the light. His own world knew Him not (v. 10). How tragic! Yet even deeper is the hurt of verse 11—His own people received Him not.

And it is so today. Nations refuse His light upon world problems and try to fight them out. Class hatred, capital against labor, the "have" against the "have not"; yes, even the bitter fightings between professed Christians, all bespeak the fact that the shining of the "true light which lighteth every man" has not been permitted to penetrate very far into this dark world.

However, it has reached, by God's grace, into the hearts of believers, and there it has brought forth glorious results.

III. In the Believer—Power and Glory (vv. 12-14).

Those who receive Christ are born again. It is not a matter of "blood," that is, of family or heredity. Nor is it "by the will of the flesh," that is, by natural instinct or development of an inherent divine spark. And it is not by "the will of man," for it does not come by human will power.

It is "of God," a divine rebirth which gives power in the life, and authority to declare one's self to be the child of God (v. 12). This is all so clear and so altogether desirable for both time and eternity that one wonders why all do not at once turn to Christ as Saviour. Have you?

The believer also sees in the Word which "was made flesh and dwelt among us," the glory of "the only begotten of the Father." All that such an expression means we shall not know until we reach eternity, but that does not prevent the believer from beholding, by the eye of faith, his glorious Saviour, the One who is "full of grace and truth."

John, the "man sent from God" (v. 6), was a witness to the Light to the intent that men "might believe." We, too, are to be witnesses, and that includes every one of us who knows Jesus Christ as Redeemer and Lord.

If we will all thus fulfill the responsibility and privilege which is ours, we may see in 1943, a real revival of spiritual life and power. No need is greater than that, and we could render God and our fellow men no greater service. This New Year's Sunday is the right time to make a start. Shall we do it?

Scarfs, Shawls Add Colorful Accents

Show Variety of Styles and Fabrics.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It is a fascinating pastime to shop for accessories this season. Now that fashion depends so much on gay accessories to counteract the simplicity of the new dresses you'll find the happiest sort of reaction to this in the neckwear, the millinery, the jewelry, and in the belt and bag displays.

Perhaps imagination plays up to its wildest in the glamorous shawls and the "headkerchiefs" (note the new word) showings that hold one spellbound with their cunning and their gayety. There are shawls (intriguing triangle affairs) to wear on your head; and there are shawls to throw around your shoulders; and there are shawls you can wear either way.

Just now fashion's spotlight is on black with sparkling jet. A type that is eye-dazzling and flattering beyond words is the show of black lacy crochet of zephyr-weight wool that is starred with coin size jet spangles. You can wear as simple a dress as you wish with this gorgeous fantasy.

The most charming English wool scarfs, as gossamer as dreams, are woven in pure wool and enchantingly colorful. And they're not expensive. You can wear them around your shoulders, shawl fashion, or over your curls like a mantilla.

That new word "headkerchief" gives its own definition. The displays are bubbling over with headkerchiefs of every description. Some are self-fringed. The newest types have ball or bead fringe, while the hand-tied variety remains as popular as ever. Novel and very lovely are be-spangled print headkerchiefs. Pretty as these are, they are no more attractive than the lace types that sparkle with glittering beadwork or sequins.

For a glamorous boudoir ensemble you should see the gay little crocheted wool shoulder shawls with house boots to match that are gayly decorated with contrasting yarn flowers.

In contrast to the midnight black shawls sparkling with jet, described above, are snow white lacy crochet shawls sparkling all over with radiant rhinestones.

Definitely made for cold weather protection are the little "jeep" shawls. A cunning type is a red, white and blue striped wool with the strings that fasten under the chin and pompons on top.

Fabric Duo

The velvet-trimmed wool dress is conspicuously present in all the smartest winter collections, with special emphasis on black with black. The stunning outfit pictured above is a two-piece black wool dress with black velvet sleeves. The yoke and front panel, as well as the gauntlet-cuff gloves and the bag, are all of the velvet. Now that home sewers are turning to making over dresses, the idea of velvet sleeves and trimming to give a new look to a last season's wool frock might be followed up to good advantage.

Fads and Fancies

Bittersweet red is the new color! Stores are showing new prints for the south and to wear under winter coats up north.

Large, elaborate spray pins are worn in unexpected and new ways. They are likely to be pinned on the side of a cool sleeve like an insignia or pinned on your gloves at some strategic point or to hold the big bow tie of fur that distinguishes smart new coats.

If you are collecting a wardrobe of scarfs, here is one you will want to include. It is long and narrow and is embellished with a gay and colorful reprint of a world map. Every country at war is easily located. You can use it for debates when arguments are on as to where "on the map."

Illinois Begins 125th Year of Statehood

Illinois is now beginning its one hundred twenty-fifth year of statehood. The act of Congress admitting it to the Union was approved by President James Monroe on December 3, 1818.

A review of military history shows that seven of its long line of anniversaries of statehood have found Illinois at war. The first such instance was in 1846; the occasion was the Mexican war.

On four anniversaries of its admission to the Union, during 1861-1864, Illinois men were fighting to preserve that Union. During the Civil War the state furnished 150 regiments of infantry, seventeen regiments of cavalry, two regiments of artillery and eight independent batteries. The total number of Illinois troops engaged was 256,297.

Illinois had its sixth wartime anniversary in 1917, during the first World War, and its seventh this year. The state furnished 351,153 men for the armed forces during the first World War. It is estimated that if the total of Illinois men in the present war has not already reached that of 1917-18 it will soon do so.

MILLBURN

(Written for last week)

Members of Home Bureau, 4-H girls and friends furnished cookies for the U. S. O. in Waukegan this week.

Harold Bonner, who attends school at Michigan State College, came Tuesday for three weeks vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bonner.

Thirty persons enjoyed the Christmas party in the church basement Tuesday evening, sponsored by the Couples club.

Mickory unit of Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Ida Truax Thursday afternoon with nine members present. Mrs. J. A. Cunningham and Mrs. Gordon Bonner gave the major lesson, "Let's Take the Fatigue out of Everyday Activities." All enjoyed the Christmas recreation in charge of Miss Floy Dixon. There was an auction of articles brought by the members, and this money will be used to pay expenses of a delegate to Farm and Home Week at Urbana in February. The January meeting will be held at the home of Miss Vivien Bonner.

Miss Phyllis Hughes who is a student at Ames, Iowa, is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hughes.

The Christian Endeavor society gave a Christmas party in the church basement Saturday evening.

Mrs. Mattie Edwards is spending two weeks with her daughter, John Dickey.

E. A. Martin spent Monday in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Edwards, Mr. Kenneth Crowley, spent Thursday evening at the Edwards home.

Miss Billie Herrick, who is attending State Teachers' college at Ill., is spending her vacation with parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Herrick.

The young people of the church enjoyed a caroling trip Sunday evening, with refreshments served later at the Gordon Bonner home.

Allan Latham and Lyman Bonner who have been in school at University of Illinois, came home Thursday for the holidays.

Local Volunteers Unable to afford improvements, and yet desirous of improving the school grounds, persons whose children attended the Olin, Iowa, Consolidated school sent out a call for help. Volunteers responded with 110 farm teams, which graded the property, while other volunteers planted trees and shrubbery.

Illinois Institutions Raise Own Provisions

Over six hundred thousand gallons of vegetables were canned by the welfare institutions of Illinois.

Nearly all of the vegetables and part of the fruit were grown on institution farms. The truck gardens on these farms were enlarged from the 500 acres of former years to 1,100 in 1942, under instructions of Governor Dyer.

DON'T BE FOOLED
BY A FULL JUNK YARD!

Don't listen to people who say—"They can't need scrap very badly. Look at that junk yard, or the auto graveyards—they've got plenty of scrap. And remember the last time we had a drive the stuff sat around for weeks." Tell such people these true facts . .

Of course the junk yards are full. They are "factories" that turn out finished scrap—sorted, broken up, and bundled . . . ready for the mills of America. The scrap has to go through these yards, and it keeps going through fast!

The auto graveyards too, are busy. They specialize in used car parts, but produce plenty of scrap as well. In June alone, these yards moved 450,000 tons—for they are required to junk within 60 days as many cars as they buy.

As for Salvage Depots—communities all over the country are staging drives. All this scrap can't be taken away at once. The junkies can't handle it and the mills can't store it. But every pound is needed and will be used. We've got to pile it up ready for instant use at any time.

The day when all junk yards are empty, when the auto graveyards are cleaned out, when all the local scrap stockpiles are gone—that is the day to dread. It is a day to avoid at all costs.

So remember—steel is needed to fight the war, and millions of lives depend on it. This steel is made of 50% scrap—and the mills have not enough scrap to last even 30 days longer. Don't fail to do your part in this emergency.

Get your scrap ready for the drive that starts Monday!
